Dear Mr. Lowrie

THANK YOU!

Thank you, for your support - especially during these critical times - means a lot to each and every one of us; because in spite of all the anxiety and worries which everyone is going through, you didn't forget those little fighters who are actually suffering the most during this tough phase.

Thank you, because your kind initiative of selling Aleppo soap and donating the profits to CCCL raised 555 GBP; this amount helps in the treatment of more than 350 young patients yearly supported by CCCL; patients who become survivors just like Jana and Imad.

Jana, the 9-year old girl whose sarcoma forced her to lose her right lung, now goes to school without trouble and travels with her family every year. Imad, the teenage boy whose dominant right arm stiffened from the radiation treatment, has been trained to write, eat, and tinker with his left hand. Both like many others can now look forward to a bright future, only thanks to your continued support.

Indeed, since 2002, thanks to the generosity of bighearted people like you, we were able to treat more than 2,040 kids, with a yearly need of 15 million USD. Patients from all over Lebanon and the Arab region are supported by CCCL at no cost to their families and with an average cure rate of 80%.

But today, we are in survival mode; and cancer does not wait!

Today more than ever, we count on you to be able to continue our lifesaving mission and ensure the continuity of services, access and coverage of treatment; CCCL being only dependent on donations.

Being in collaboration with more than 13 hospitals, and with our commitment to SDG3, SDG5, SDG8, SDG13 and SDG17, we promise to do all it takes to contribute towards sustainable development regionally and globally.

Saving Lives, Celebrating Hope; that's what we will continue to do thanks to YOU!

Appreciatively yours,
